

Argumentative Writing Prompt

After reading several stories in class, you have experienced different characters, settings, and themes. Think about the story that has made the biggest impact on you. Which of the stories we've read is your favorite? Write an argumentative essay in which you identify which story is your favorite and explain why. Use specific evidence and details from the text to support your claim. Be sure to include reasons that make your argument strong, address counterarguments, and use a clear and logical organization in your response.
